

Nancy Sherrill

From: Nancy Sherrill
Sent: Friday, January 21, 2011 9:18 AM
To: 'BMTSY@aol.com'
Subject: Frances Burr Ball

Hello,

Your query was forwarded to me. I too found no mention of Frances Burr except for her marriage in Clark County IL. Then I started looking for information on Dr. Lawrence S. Ball who was from Vigo County. There is a nice biographical sketch of Dr. Ball on pages 466 and 467 of Beckwith's 1880 History of Vigo and Parke Counties. According to the sketch, Dr. Ball "was married at York, Clark county, Illinois, in May 1855, to Miss Frances Burr, of New York, a daughter of Robert H. Burr, a distant relative of Aaron Burr....His first wife died in April 1876 and is buried at Prairieton." This history is available online on our web site. Here is the link to the pages you need: <http://www.vigo.lib.in.us/archives/genhistories/beckwith/VigoCounty/pt162.pdf>. There is a biographical sketch of Lawrence Ball's son Edward H. Ball on pages 739 and 740 of Oakey's 1908 Greater Terre Haute and Vigo County. There are some discrepancies in the information here. Frances Burr was said to have been born in August 1831 and to have been "a direct descendant of Aaron Burr." She was also said to have died in April 1875. The Oakey book is also online, and the pages you need are available here: <http://www.vigo.lib.in.us/archives/genhistories/oakey/Volume2/Part2/pt100.pdf>. I think the Beckwith book is more likely to have been accurate since it was written during the lifetime of Lawrence Ball. The information for the Oakey book was probably given by Edward H. Ball.

I finally managed to find the family on the 1860 census of Prairieton Township, Vigo County. Dr. Ball was listed as "L. S." Ball. His wife was "Franci" and she was born in New York. I noticed that there was a Jacob Ogle living next door to the Balls. There was a Fred in the Ogle family. "Laurence" and Frances Ball were also listed on the 1870 census of Prairieton Township. I found them in Heritage Quest but not in Ancestry. Ancestry seems to have omitted Prairieton Township. I couldn't find Frances Burr on the 1850 census although I searched all states for a Burr female born about 1831 in New York.

We have stone readings from the Prairieton Cemetery in volume three of Cemeteries, Vigo County, Indiana. There are listings for E. H. Ball and his wife Carrie and for "Capt. Lawrence, Co. F, 54th Indiana Infantry." That must be a military stone because there are no dates. There is no listing for Frances. I suspect that either she did not have a stone or the stone could not be read. The Prairieton Cemetery is also on the Find-A-Grave web site, but there is no listing for Frances there either. There is an obituary for Dr. L. S. Ball in the 1 Nov. 1915 Tribune. If you would like a copy of the obituary, send $5.00 to Special Collections, Vigo County Public Library, One Library Square, Terre Haute IN 47807.

Nancy Sherrill
Genealogy Librarian

Nancy Sherrill

From: Chris Bradfield
Sent: Wednesday, January 19, 2011 11:51 AM
To: Nancy Sherrill
Subject: FW: Frances (Burr) Ball

One for SPC. Thanks,

Christine Bradfield
 Reference Librarian
 Vigo County Public Library
 812-232-1113 x2244
 Fax 812-232-3208

*Laurence S. Ball + Frances A. Burr -
 29 May 1855 - Clark Co
 Dr. L. S. Ball - 86 -
 1 Nov 1915 p2
 Int*

From: BMTSY@aol.com [mailto:BMTSY@aol.com]
Sent: Tuesday, January 18, 2011 7:46 PM
To: questions
Subject: Frances (Burr) Ball

No was from + H + son of Dr. C.V. Ball

I am her great great granddaughter. I have a statement from a great aunt Winifred Ogle that she died in approximately 1876 or 1877 but I have not been able to find out anything. She was the wife of Dr. Lawrence S. Ball. After she died he married Clara Kelsey. My great grandmother was Agnes (Ball) Ogle. My grandfather was Lawrence S. Ogle. His father was Fred H. L. Ogle. Agnes and Fred died in Roger Mills Oklahoma in 1937 and 1942 respectively. My grandfather died in 1976 and is buried in Coachella Valley, California.

I have not been able to find out anything about Frances except that their wedding was in 1855 in Clark County, Illinois.

Can you please help direct me to some positive information regarding her life. I have heard that her fathers name was Halsey and that she was born in New York in about 1830 but I know how tenuous information is when there is nothing in written fact.

Thank you,

Karen Monarch
 Hesperia, California

SCHEDULE 1 - Free Inhabitants in the Pravitt Township in the County of Way State of Ill. of Ill. enumerated by me, on the 5 day of June 1880. Wm. H. Hays Ass't Marshal
 Post Office Pravitt

1	2	3	Description			7	Value of Estate Owned		10	11	12	13	14
			Age	Sex	Color		Real Estate	Personal Estate
		Johnson, Duddy	5	f					Ind
		Virginia	4	f
81	80	Charles H. Hays	33	m		farmer	1	3000	Ill
		Lara	26	f					Ind
		Jacob H.	5	m					Ind
		James	4	m
82	81	John Spole	31	m		Big Game Merchant	1500	1000	Ind
		James	37	f					Ind
		Mary	9	f					Ind
		Estaline	4	f
		John	1	f
		John	4	m
		Lara, Delphine	27	f		Domestic
83	82	Charles H. Hays	32	m		Black & Gold	1500	800	Ind
		E. W. Hays	32	f					Ind
		Mary	7	f
		Charles H.	5	f
		Jacob B.	4	m
		John S.	2	m
		Edgar B.	2	f
		James P. Hays	38	f		Domestic			Ind
84	83	J. S. Ball	31	m		Physician	1	400	Ind
		Francis	31	f					Ind
		E. H. Ball	4	m					Ind
		Samuel H. Hays	13	f
85	84	George H. Hays	64	m		farmer	1	165	25	Ind
		Sarah	63	f					Ind
		Sarah	10	f					Ind
86	85	James Hays	38	m		farmer	1	300	300	Ind
		Rachel	25	f					Ind
		Franklin	9	m					Ind
		Milton	7	m					Ind
		Madison	5	m
		John	1	f
87	86	Calvin H. Hays	30	m		farmer	1	300	Ind
		Elizabeth	23	f					Ind
		John	4	f					Ind
		William	1	f
		Edgar	7	m

No. white males 17 No. colored males No. white females 22 No. colored females No. deaf and dumb 5.475 No. insane 5.625 No. idiotic 0 No. pauper 0 No. convict 0

SCHEDULE 1.—Inhabitants in 1st Ward of the City of Chicago, in the County of Cook, State of Illinois, enumerated by me on the 30 day of July, 1870.

Post Office: Chicago, Ill.

Geo. W. Campbell, Ass't Marshal.

1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10			11			12			13			14			15			16			17			18			19			20
1		2		3			4			5			6			7			8			9			10

0718

BALL, DR. ~~Edmund~~ V.
EDWARD V.

Mr. Ball.

Ball, Dr. Edmand V/

Born in Vermont, in 1800

Died in T.H. ,1873

Practiced medicine for over 40 years.

Bradsby page 627

Oakey Vol. 2 p. 739

Filing case no. 1 Gen. Room

Paddle, Mary Elizabeth Ball (1839-1915)
Ball Family

INDIANA AUTHORS

BIOBIBLIOGRAPHICAL FORM

Date 23 September 1978

FULL NAME: Mary Elizabeth Ball Peddle

BIRTH: Place Terre Haute, Indiana

Date September 16, 1839

If not born in INDIANA, when did you move to the state?

Date

PARENT'S FULL NAMES: Father Dr. Edward Voorhees Ball

Mother (Maiden) Sarah Elizabeth Richardson

EDUCATION:

Schools - Colleges

Degree

Year

Oxford Female Academy, Oxford

Ohio

1855

MARITAL STATUS: Single () Divorced () Widowed () Married ()

Wife's full name (maiden)

Husband's full name Charles Rugan Peddle

Date of Marriage April 30, 1867

Children John Bailey; Caroline Cheever; Mary; Margaret

CAREER:

Positions held

Date

HONORS:

(continue on back)

BIBLIOGRAPHY:

Book Title

Pages

City of Publication

Year

The Story of a Hoosier Immigration

57

Harwinton,

1939

Conn.

The Brookside

Press

(continue on back)

Please return completed form to: Wabash College Library
Indiana Authors Project
Crawfordsville, IN 47933

ANDERSEN CORPORATION

SALES REPRESENTATIVE

HOWARD H. STURM

225 IVANHOE WAY

PHONE 829-3382

AREA CODE 309

BLOOMINGTON, ILLINOIS 61701

DATE _____ JOB _____

COPY BY M/M PRICE
ORIG IPO M A MCGILL
1992

ORIG IPO M.A. MCGILL
COPIED 26 JUL 92 M/M
PRICE

- ① Edward Ball went to New York from Branford Conn 1666
- ⑧ Caleb Ball
- ⑦ John Ball
- ⑥ Daniel Ball + Eleanor Lindsey Lohry
- ⑤ Aaron Ball + Elizabeth Parker
- ④ E. V. Ball + Sara Elizabeth Richardson
- ③ Mary E Ball + Charles R. Padden
- ② John B. Padden + Alice Dany
- ① Juliet Padden

Parents

John Bailey Peddle
B. Feb 27, 1868
M. Jun. 21, 1897
D. April 6, 1933

Alice Elliott Onay
B. Aug. 16, 1874
M. Jun. 21, 1897
D. Dec. 5, 1970

Children

(1) John Elliottt (Bible)
B. May 15, 1898
M.
D. Feb. 26, 1899

(2) Juliet Alice
B. Jun. 7, 1899 (Bible)
M.
D.

(3) Kliner Mary
B. Jan 1, 1905 (Bible)
M.
D.

Parents

Lawrence Schaler Ball
B. Mar. 15, 1829 Terre Haute (Bible)
M. (1) May 29, 1855
(2)
D. Nov. 1915

Frances Burr
B.
M. May 29, 1855
D.

Clara Aseneth Kelsey
B.
M.
D.

Children

1. Hal
B.
M. Carrie Wyeth
D. July 1931

2. Agnes
B.
M. Fred (H. Lee) Ogle
D.

3. Preston
B.
M.
D.

(1) 4. Bertram
B.
M. Caroline Peddle
D.

(2) 5. Helen
B.
M. Alvin Rads Evansville
D.

(3) 6. Clarence
B.
M.
D.

GEN.

REFERENCE
DO NOT CIRCULATE

VICTORY COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY
TERRE HAUTE, INDIANA

Parents

Aaron Ball

B. July 17, 1774 Hanover N.J. (Bible)

M. May 11, 1799 (Bible)

D. Jan 8, 1849 Crawford Co. Ill (Bible)

Elizabeth Voorhies

B. May 22, 1781, Whippany, Morris Co.

M. May 11, 1799, N.J. N.J. (Bible)

D. Sept. 24, 1832, Crawford Co Ill "

Children

GEN.

1. Edward Voorhies

B. Hanover N.J. Feb. 12, 1800 (Bible)

M. Jan 1, 1828 Sarah Elizabeth Richardson

D. Mar. 29, 1873, Terre Haute, Ind (Bible)

2. John

B.

M.

D.

3. Montgomery

B.

M.

D.

4. Aaron

B.

M. Dec. 25, 1832 Susan A. Bennett

D. (newspaper clipping)

copy

Parents

Dr. Edward Voorhies Ball

B. Feb. 12, 1800, Hanover N.J. (Bible)

M. Jan. 1 1828

D. Mar. 29, 1873, Terre Haute (Bible)

Sarah Elizabeth Richardson

B. Jan. 16, 1810, Williamstown, Gen .

M. Jan. 1, 1828 Co. N.Y. (Bible)

D. Aug. 10, 1891, Terre Haute, Ind
(Bible)

Children

1. Lawrence Schaler

B. Mar. 15, 1829, Terre Haute, Ind (Bible)

M. (1) May 29, 1855 Frances Burr (Bible)

(2) Clara Aseneth Kelsey

D. Nov. 1915

2. Eliza Caroline

B. Nov. 12, 1830 Terre Haute, (Bible)

M. Jun. 3, 1851 William W. Cheever (Bible)

D. Mar. 11, 1904 Kansas City (Bible)

3. Frances Kleanor

B. Dec. 4, 1833 (Bible)

M.

D. Sept. 30 1838 (Bible)

4. Mary Elizabeth

B. Sept. 16, 1839 (Bible)

M. Apr. 30, 1867 Charles Rugan Peddle

B. May 14, 1915, Westfield, N.J. (Bible)

5. Sarah Matilda

B. Apr. 23, 1843 Terre Haute. (Bible)

M. June 3, 1889 Constant Wise Mancourt

D. Jan. 23, 1935

REFERENCED
DO NOT CIRCULATE

VIGO COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY

MR. EDWARD BALL

Among hundreds of those who left their eastern homes for the great new Western Country, lured by visions of undeveloped riches, came in 1818, Aaron Ball and his family from Hanover, New Jersey and settled on the Illinois side of the Grand Prairie. The family consisted of Mr. Ball, his wife and four sons, the oldest, Edward Voorhees born Feb. 12th. 1800, who was eighteen years of age at the time of coming west.

Mr. Ball had been engaged in mercantile business in Hanover but was optimistic and enthusiastic as to what he could accomplish on the many acres of land of his new prairie farm. But Edward found the environment distasteful, His ambitions were for something broader-opportunity for mental development and the close touch with the activities of a town.

His father was dismayed when told of this wish, and opposed it strenuously, saying he counted mostly on the support of his oldest son and would not listen to his going away. As parental authority was more compelling in those days than now, it is probable, he did not make the desired change till he was of age. Be that as it may the time came when persuasion and authority were of no avail and his final determination was announced. Then in anger his father gave his ultimatum- that Edward need expect no assistance from him during his life nor a share in anything he should leave at his death.

REFERENCE
DO NOT CIRCULATEVIGO COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY
TERRE HAUTE, INDIANA

Right here it may as well be told that his father left no will but Edward refused any portion of the estate though he accepted willingly, and cheerfully, a large share of the care of his father when he was no longer able to do for himself. Edward went to Vincennes where he took up the study of medicine under Dr. Schuler, teaching school to defray expenses. It may not be amiss to state here that Dr. Schuler's wife was one of the Cunningham family of Vincennes. She became a resident of Terre Haute after his death and lived here many years. That generation of the Cunningham family seem to have all come to Terre Haute. Mr. Nathaniel Cunningham had a large family and at one time he was our Representative in the State Legislature. One of his sisters married Mr. Sam Crawford, father of the late Major Frank Crawford, and the second Mrs. Riley McKeen, mother of Mr. Crawford McKeen. Another sister was the wife of Gen. Scott, as he was called though why- as he was never a General in the Army perhaps never served in the army in any capacity.

Returning to Dr. Ball, his medical studies being completed, he came to Terre Haute and began practicing about 1824 or '25. On Jan. 1st. 1828, he was married at York, Ill. to Sarah Elizabeth Richardson and they started housekeeping on South 3rd. St. just below where the St.

Charles hotel now stands. That hotel was once known as the Buntin House. The married life began under a handicap of a hundred dollar debt, a considerable sum at that time, but this was soon wiped out and the second year of the marriage a lot was purchased on the corner of 1st. and Cherry St. and a house erected which was later added to, and almost completely changed during the Civil War. At this location he lived the remainder of his life, except for one year when he fancied another town more desirable only to find his attachment for Terre Haute too strong to be broken. He was a most successful practitioner. The sexton at the cemetery once said to him "Why is it, Dr. Ball, I never have any of your patients to bury?" One secret of his success was undoubtedly the careful attention he gave his patients though he was also a close student, always taking numerous medical journals and buying new publications, which he felt contained the latest methods and remedies. A physician examining his library and instruments after his death said "Dr. Ball certainly kept up with the times".

Pouring over this literature, he spent his spare moments some of which should have been given to relaxation, which was proven by his weariness that often overtook him from which he would nod over his books in spite of efforts to keep awake. But as stated, much of his success was due to untiring watchfulness. He never gave up the custom of carrying medicines with him, he said that the giving at once often meant the saving of a life, and in critical cases he prepared and gave the remedy himself and then stayed to watch the effect, thus being both physician and nurse. Usually consultation was at his own instigation and insisted on, though the friends of the patient expressed themselves satisfied with his judgement, and it sometimes happened when the consulting physician pronounced the case absolutely without hope, that his indefatigable efforts brought results that proved the other mistaken. Several such could be mentioned one at least is worth it. The patient was thoroughly examined and the remedy decided upon. The consulting physician was asked as to the size of the dose to be administered and replied "8 grains". Dr. Ball said nothing but as the other physician departed, turned to the stand and prepared a dose of 40 grains and gave it, which soon showed remarkable results. An amusing statement started by a particular friend of the other physician was soon circulating- that if Dr. So and So had not been called and prescribed, Mrs. S- would have died. Many even now remember with affection, this good man, mild and gentle in disposition, warm in his friendships and though quiet, and not given to much talking, a good listener with a vein of humor that appreciated a jest and good story told by others. His honesty and integrity were impecable. His last illness began in July 1872 and though for a while his older patients and friends came to him for advice and prescriptions. He could not go to them and he passed away the 29th. of March 1873.

At the time of his coming to Terre Haute there seems to have been men here who with their families, were always prominent in the social life of the town. Mr. Lucius Scott and Mr. David Linton both attended the wedding in 1828. Quite a party went down from Terre Haute. Miss Emily Barnett seems to have been one of them, the name is not familiar as she left no record.

Written by his daughter Mrs. Marcoux

15 MAR 1829
Lawrence Ball, Born 1831
Son of EDWARD V. BALL

Reminiscences of Old Terre Haute

by Lawrence S. Ball

I am now the oldest one living who was born in Terre Haute. The three preceding were 1st. William Earle, 2nd. a girl, McFadden, 3rd. a Mr. Allen. As the Wabash River was the only outlet, the most desirable locations were on the "Banks of the Wabash." Dr. Modesitt and Curtis Gilbert had at that time the finest houses in town on Water street. Our neighbors on First St. were Richard Hebb, Guy Welsh, Chauncey Warren, John F. Cruft, Frank McCabe and Bateman Ross. The Doctors were Septer Patrick, Dr. Daniels, Dr. Blake and Dr. Ball, Dr. Reed, Dr. Allen Pence and Dr. Modesitt.

The merchants were Linton and Lindley, Warder Earle, J. D. Early, Early and Elkins, Matt Sedam, McCormick, Jake Ryman, Johnson and Freeman, Groverman and Bourne, Crasher the Watchmaker, Simon the little Jew, Blake and Ball, Whipple and Rice, S. H. Potter, Lucian Lemon, L. O. Shultz, and Erastus Flint Book Store, John T. King, druggist, Alec McGregor, Samuel and John Crawford, Dane (Dave?) Johnson, Chauncey and Henry Rose, McCabe.

The lawyers were Griswold and Usher, Dick Thompson, H. Dodge, H. D. Scott, Chambers Patterson, Lester Wright and S. B. Gookins.

The builders and contractors were John Boudinot, Zenas Smith, Herman Blood, Jabez Hedden, James Hook, T. A. Madison.

The hotels were The Indian, kept by Wm. McFadden; The Stewart House, by Matthew Stewart; The Eagle, by Malcom McFadden.

We must not forget to mention Benny Hays, the pioneer pedagogue, held in pleasant memory by his many pupils. James Cruse, an Episcopal minister taught school also.

The ladies and girls were: Mary and Abby Cruft, sisters of John F. Cruft, Mary Farrington, Martha, Fannie and Margaret Woods, Lucia, Lizzie and Fannie Cruft, Lizzie, Etta and Mollie Blake, Ann and Eliza Crawford, Mary and Hattie Linton, Sophia Wason, (Wasson) Eliza McCabe and Carrie Gookins, Julia King, Carrie Taylor, Phoebe Dowling, Laura Sedam, Cordelia Madison, and the Kumbasah girls, Marion Topping, Miranda and Sallie Danaldson, Rumbasah

The younger men were: Jacob Lager, Henry D. Williams, Billy Lindley, Walter Reynolds, Warner Williams, J. Ober, Brown, Welton Modesitt, Dr. Ketcham, Mel Topping, John and Henry Rea, Harry Steel, Bill Tuel, Tom Murray.

A lot of younger ones: Wm. Cunningham, Lawrence Shuler, James Modisett, James Johnson, Bish Osbourn, John & Will Danaldson, Bert and Al Williams, Freena Linton, Henry Flint, Ed Musselman, Joe Blake, Steve Coddington, James Smith.

There were two papers published - ^{one,} The Wabash Courier by Judge Canard, The Express by David Danaldson.

the other

Community Affairs File
VIGO COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY
TERRE HAUTE, INDIANA

REFERENCE
DO NOT CIRCULATE

"Cordelia"

Miscellaneous names.

Thomas Dowling, John C. Ross, Lucius H. Scott, L. O. Shultz, Jim Hays, Worl Gregg, who together with Gazier furnished music for the dances. Billy Ramage, Boris, the lame negro barber, Tom Scott the bell ringer, Major Bourne, _____ Coddington, Jim Random, _____ Sibley.

Incidentals

Each hotel had a cupola on the top of the house with a bell in it which was rung to call boarders to their meals.

In case of death little printed slips were carried around to friends, inviting "self and family" to the funeral.

When Lizzie Blake was a little tot she was a pupil of Miss Freeman. Her seat was rather close to the fire and one day it was unusually hot, which she manifested by wriggling about quite a good deal. At last she called Miss Freeman and said: "Miss Freeman, Ise most cookted". This same little girl when somewhat older on a May-day, when Carrie Ball was queen of the May, acted as fairy, carrying a message from the Queen of the Fairies to the Queen of the May--and she looked the part.

This took place in Britain's Garden
Along in the early thirties the first bank was established. A man by the name of Fountain was made cashier. About that time the national road was being built. In society, good and not so good, a number of West Point Engineers set the pace--and it was a fearful one. Fountain, whose salary was but $1,000.00 per year, was ambitious to keep with the crowd and was spending more than many thought his salary justified. His custom was, when Directors came yearly to investigate matters, to invite them to a sumptuous dinner with wine spirits and while they were having a jollie time he was in the bank adjusting matters to suit himself. But the Directors had become somewhat suspicious and one day after dinner they resumed counting the money. The bills seemed so much looser than they were before they threw them all back and they commenced counting them all over again and never left the house until the counting was finished. They found a deficit of ~~$20,000.00~~. Twenty thousand Dollars.

Poor Fountain was a pitiable object. Great beads of perspiration stood out on his forehead and a look of abject misery on his countenance (?) that excited the pity of the justly wrathful directors. What became of him I never knew-- he slunk out of town during the night.

The first piano was brought to Terre Haute by Dr. Blake, also the first cooking stove. Heretofore cooking was done on the open fireplace and the rooms were heated by the same. Wood was used exclusively.

The elections were held in Terre Haute, the whole county coming there to vote, and incidentally to settle difficulties.

If two persons had any difficulty the settlement was put off until election day. Consequently fighting was quite general on that day.

The house on First and Ohio streets belonging to Demas Deming was occupied by a family whose name I have forgotten. They kept boarders, among whom were M. A. Jewett and wife. He was a Congregational minister. The minister and his wife had a boy four or five years of age. The family had a boy much older. By some means the older boy gained possession of a gun which, as usual, was not loaded; but when he pointed the gun at the little boy and pulled the trigger there was an explosion and the little boy fell riddled with shot and was picked up dead.

The River was crossed by a ferry boat kept by Jack Longdon and, as homeseekers were rushing to the west, I have seen a line of covered wagons waiting their turn to cross, reaching from the river to the Prairie House.

Lawrence S. Ball

*Original sent to Juliet Padden
Returned 3/4/36*

Among hundreds of those who left their eastern homes for the great new Western Country, lured by visions of undeveloped riches, came in 1818, Aaron Ball and his family from Hanover, New Jersey and settled on the Illinois side of the Grand Praire. The family consisted of Mr. Ball, his wife and four sons, the oldest, Edward Voorhees born Feb. 12th. 1800, who was eighteen years of age at the time of coming west.

Mr. Ball had been engaged in mercantile business in Hanover, but was optimistic and enthusiastic as to what he could accomplish on the many acres of land of his new prairie farm. But Edward found the environment distasteful, his ambitions were for something broader - opportunity for mental development and the close touch with the activities of a town.

His father was dismayed when told of this wish, and opposed it strenuously, saying he counted mostly on the support of his oldest son and would not listen to his going away. As parental authority was more compelling in those days than now, it is probable, he did not make the desired change till he was of age. Be that as it may the time came when persuasion and authority were of no avail and his final determination was announced. Then in anger his father gave his ultimatum-that Edward need expect no assistance from him during his life nor a share in anything he should leave at his death.

Right here it may as well be told that his father left no will but Edward refused any portion of the estate though he accepted willingly, and cheerfully a large share of the care of his father when he was no longer able to do for himself. Edward went to Vincennes where he took up the study of medicine under Dr. Schuler, teaching school to defray expenses. It may not be amiss to state here that

Dr. Schuler's wife was one of the Cunningham family of Vincennes. She became a resident of Terre Haute after his death and lived here many years. That generation of the Cunningham family seem to have all come to Terre Haute. Mr. Nathaniel Cunningham had a large family and at one time he was our Representative in the State Legislature. One of his sisters married Mr. Sam Crawford, father of the late Major Frank Crawford, and the second Mrs. Riley McKeen, mother of Mr. Crawford McKeen. Another sister was the wife of Gen. Scott, as he was called though why- as he was never a General in the Army perhaps never served in the army in any capacity.

Returning to Dr. Ball, his medical studies being completed, he came to Terre Haute and began practicing about 1824 or '25. On Jan. 1st. 1828, he was married at York, Ill. to Sarah Elizabeth Richardson and they started housekeeping on South 3rd. St. just below where the St. Charles hotel now stands. That hotel was once known as the Buntin House. The married life began under a handicap of a hundred dollar debt, a considerable sum at that time, but this was soon wiped out and the second year of the marriage a lot was purchased on the corner of 1st. and Cherry St. and a house erected which was later added to, and almost completely changed during the Civil War. At this location he lived the remainder of his life, except for one year when he fancied another town more desirable only to find his attachment for Terre Haute too strong to be broken. He was a most successful practitioner. The sexton at the cemetery once said to him "Why is it, Dr. Ball, I never have any of your patients to bury?" One secret of his success was undoubtedly the careful attention he gave his patients though he was also a close student, always taking numerous medical journals and buying new publications, which he felt contained the latest methods and remedies. A physician examining his library and instruments after his death said "Dr. Ball certainly kept up with the times."

Pouring over this literature, he spent his spare moments some of which should have been given to relaxation, which was proven by his weariness that often overtook him from which he would nod over his books in spite of efforts to keep awake. But as stated, much of his success was due to untiring watchfulness. He never gave up the custom of carrying medicines with him, he said that the giving at once often meant the saving of a life, and in critical cases he prepared and gave the remedy himself and then stayed to watch the effect, thus being both physician and nurse. Usually consultation was at his own instigation and insisted on, though the friends of the patient expressed themselves satisfied with his judgement, and it sometimes happened when the consulting physician pronounced the case absolutely without hope, that his indefatigable efforts brought results that proved the other mistaken. Several such could be mentioned one at least is worth it. The patient was thoroughly examined and the remedy decided upon. The consulting physician was asked as to the size of the dose to be administered and replied "8 grains." Dr. Ball said nothing but as the other physician departed, turned to the stand and prepared a dose of 40 grains and gave it, which soon showed remarkable results. An amusing statement started by a particular friend of the other physician was soon circulating-that if Dr. So and So had not been called and prescribed, Mrs. S- would have died. Many even now remember with affection, this good man, mild and gentle in disposition, warm in his friendships and though quiet, and not given to much talking, a good listener with a vein of humor that appreciated a jest and good story told by others. His honesty and integrity were impecable. His last illness began in July 1872 and though for a while his older patients and friends came to him for advice and prescriptions. He could not go to them and he passed away the 29th. of March 1873.

At the time of his coming to Terre Haute there seems to have been men here who with their families, were always prominent in the social life of the town. Mr. Lucius Scott and Mr. David Linton both attended the wedding in 1828. Quite a party went down from Terre Haute. Miss Emily Barnett seems to have been one of them, the name is not familiar as she left no record.

Written by his daughter Mrs. Mancourt

ENCOMIUMS FOR BIOPSIS AUTHOR

COL. A. E. JOAB CREDITED WITH MASTERPIECE.

He Is Flooded With Letters of
Congratulations From All Quarters.

Col. A. E. Joab, the well known Tacoma attorney, is liable to awaken one of these mornings and find himself famous in the literary world. Judging from the reception his poem, "Biopsis," has been accorded, he is not now far from possessing that distinction. "Biopsis: A View of Life," published in full in Monday morning's Ledger, has caused wide comment and the author has been showered with letters of congratulation, while the editor of The Ledger has received many letters of thanks for the publication. These letters are from people well known in the state and Northwest in educational and professional life and from others who possess love for high class literature. One of them says:

"The best article, in my humble opinion, that ever appeared in your paper was the one entitled 'Biopsis: A View of Life,' by Albert E. Joab. Kindly send me another copy, as some one took a fancy to mine."

Col. Joab dedicates his masterpiece to all lovers of religious liberty. He states that it was written several years before it was given to the press. It has at once struck a responsive chord in many breasts. It shows the working of a powerful mind whose owner is possessed of great skill in the use of words. Many of its readers have asserted that it will live long after its author has passed away. Col. Joab remembered many of his friends at Christmas time with beautifully printed copies of "Biopsis."

$\frac{3}{4}$ Million behind our Surety Bonds
E. F. Gregory Co., 120 12th St.

Ball Family (Edward James)

Ball Family (Edward James)

ERIE, PA., February 13, 1888.

Dear Friend:

Many descendants of Edward Ball, one of the founders of Newark, N. J., know that a genealogy of the family was begun, over 40 years ago, by John R. Burnet, of Northfield, N. J. He had secured a vast amount of information, including the most difficult part, viz.: the earlier generations; and had intended going on immediately to a completion of the work, when it was stopped by his sudden and lamented death in June, 1874. Since then the work has remained at a standstill. The writer has been asked to now complete it. It is a vast undertaking, with no pecuniary inducements. The profits on the limited number of copies of a genealogy which may be sold will be but a small compensation for the time and expense necessary for the completion of the work. Our main reward and inducement is the gratification of seeing completed and in print the genealogy of ancestors who were an honor to their race; who builded well, as proven by the intelligence, morality and patriotism of their own earlier times, and the generally high grade of character of their descendants to this day. This work can only be speedily and satisfactorily completed by a general and generous effort on the part of all the present descendants in gathering all the information of both the present and past generations within their power. Your earnest attention and effort is therefore called to the following statements and directions:

1st. The order of names of families as here given is no sure indication of the order of birth, except where dates are given.

2d. The information on this diagram is far from all of that within the possession of the writer. It reaches fragmentarily to about 1850-'4. So much, however, is given that anyone who is even measurably acquainted with his ancestry can find his connection with the family.

The substance of all important facts, except biographical sketches, are given, so far as space will allow, so far as known. It will be seen, however, that length of time between births is much more irregular in many of the earlier families, indicating that many names of children have been lost, who died young or unmarried. Also the birth, death, marriage, residence, occupation, etc., of many is lacking. Any information helping to complete or correct this diagram, even to mere tradition, is eagerly desired by the writer. Do not withhold any information because you may deem it unimportant, or because you suppose I may obtain it elsewhere.

3d. Beginning with the last generation here given, let each one gather voluntarily by writing where the information is not at hand, or complete a continuation of any other lines as possible. Also where there is not information enough attainable to undertake a complete continuation of any line, give as many isolated names as possible of descendants of Edward Ball, with post office address. Especially give names of those whom you think to be specially able to give information.

In all this connect any continuations of this diagram with what is given by referring to the numbers at the right hand of each line. Give full names, if possible, since this, with occupation, etc. may be the only means of distinguishing several having the same initials.

4th. In giving marriage of any person, either of males or females, marrying into any line, give, if possible, the names of the parents of such.

5th. Go about this work immediately. The older persons of the connection, who can generally give the most information, are those most liable to pass away soon.

Preserve this diagram carefully. It may be very valuable to you or others in time to come.

Further information concerning the family of Edward Ball, at any time to come, gladly received and preserved.

JOSEPH HARRISON VANCE,
Erie, Pa.

Explanations: Ch., children; abt., about; d., died; h. husband; kins, kinsman; kinsw, kinswoman; md., married; res. residence; the plus sign (+) following the number of children given in a family indicates the belief or conjecture that there were more; an interrogation point following any statement indicates that it is uncertain or conjectural.

Additional copies of this diagram may be had at any time at the rate of twenty-five cents for each copy.

Descendants of Edward Ball
2d Third Generation
Settlers of Newark, New Jersey

CALEB BALL, Sr., b prob. about 1603, therefore in Connecticut. Last trace of him alive 1716, as witness to a deed. Owned the homestead, Newark, N. J., May 1, 1704; returned it to his father that date. Prob. lived with his sons,
Caleb (2d) and John, at Millbrook at his death.
Name of his wife (Sarah) appeared once only, on a deed, Feb. 19, 1705-6. Information desired as to residence, death and occupation.

12 ch. (See opposite half page.) 80

Moses Ball, b abt. 1785; d abt. 1775(?). Res. Spring- field, N. J.	{ Jonathan Ball, b about 1559(?). Md. 1782, Sarah Stiles. Removed 1792 to Ascott, Canada, near Vermont 1 son.— 158
	{ Samuel "..... 159
	{ Probably others. These supposed to be children of Moses Ball; nothing certain. 160

VI. THOMAS BALL, b 1687-8; d Dec. 18, 1744. Md. about 1710(?) Sarah Davis, who died Feb. 1, 1778; age 88th yr.

SEE EXPLANATIONS, INSTRUCTIONS, ETC., OVER.